

Interward Asset Management

7 St. Thomas Street, Toronto

Interward relocated from Bay Street to Yorkville with the aim of optimizing their square footage while attracting an outstanding talent pool. The new boutique space was designed to promote collaboration and flexible growth. Interward selected POI to bring the designer's vision to life and help transform their environment into an agile space that displays aesthetic beauty while supporting their unique functional requirements.

After thoroughly vetting their options, Interward selected Steelcase product for its comfort and sophistication. POI worked with the designer to ensure that the space worked harder and smarter. Taking advantage of the outdoor views, POI selected an extensive product portfolio with a cohesive colour palette to create the illusion of an expansive space. Furniture applications include benching systems with height adjustable desks along with multifunctional private office and boardroom settings featuring integrated technology for collaboration.

By implementing quality furnishings and customized solutions within budget, POI and its design partner successfully created an elegant and appealing space that is both flexible and functional.
